Angels and Light Bodies

Date: 12/16/30
Host: George Noory
Guests: William Henry, Stephen Mackey, Susana Martinez-Cordero

Investigative mythologist William Henry discussed the connection between the seraphim and reptilians, and the transition into the “light bodies,” as beings who reside in the rainbow body of light. There are several different kinds of angels, he noted, but the seraphim are of the highest order, beings of pure light and love, who could represent the real level of humanity. “I believe that we’re on the verge of duplicating ascension chambers that have been depicted in ancient representations, and this is going to be opening the door towards traveling in parallel dimensions—a technology that could actually be available in the next 10 years, he predicted.

The Tibetans teach that Earth is part of a federation of 14 different star systems, including Sirius, Antares, and Pleiades. Some of the advanced Tibetan masters are said to have evolved into light bodies and are now in these other systems, possibly through wormholes, said Henry. Beings who have transformed into rainbow light bodies may appear to us as apparitions, such as when NVTV’s Mary is seen, he continued.

Henry pointed out that the ancients pictured the seraphim as feathered seraphs, and depicted them in artworks as having seraph-shaped bodies covered with feathers (see related images). While the serpent has a serpentine aspect to them, he differentiated them from the reptilian, the co-collective conscious being who has been associated with negative behavior toward humans. The rainbow body tradition is calling upon humans to expand our hearts and minds and become more full-spectrum electric and spiritual beings, he imparted.

The Neuroscience of Magic

First-hour guests, neuroscientists Stephen Mackey and Susana Martinez-Cordero revealed some of the scientific aspects behind magicians’ tricks. “Magicians manipulate our attention and awareness by taking control and leading our brains,” said Mackey. They take advantage of the fact that human brains are hard wired to use attention to enhance certain things while suppressing others, he added.
